

A night full of rain

A night full of rain, relentless and stray
A desolated town, pale ghosts around
Words do not explain, surely not today
Leave this place behind, so dead and done and blind

Where will the roads meet?
Where will this madness end?
These are wounds that just don't mend
These are idiots spawned from them

Please, for once, show me your face
The wind blows hard, it brings disgrace
I know you care and so do I
Sometimes some things can't go otherwise

Dead bodies hanged abound, for everyone to see
Naked are the bones, while hearts are getting bleak
The phantom asks - and that's too much
He has been asked - and that's too much

Please, for twice, show me respect
For the things we sought to get
Burst, collapse, into thin air
The downside of being too much sincere

Gaps are shown, too hard to fill
Not just from one the blood is spilled
A cage on water; alone, aloud
And jackals gathered all around